THE SACKVILLE LETTER.

Report of Secretary of State Bayard to the President.

Washington, Oct. 30—The grounds of the action of the President in intimating to Lord Sackville West that his position as representative of the British Government was no longer acceptable to the United States were stated in the report of Secretary of State Bayard. This report was dated the 29th inst., and after recounting the nature of the Murchison letter and Lord Sackville's unfortunate reply thereto, proceeds to say: "The minister gave his assent and sanction to the aspersions and imputations of the Murchison letter. Thus, under his correspondent's assurance of secrecy, in which the minister concurred by marking his answer "private," he undertook to advise a citizen of the United States how to exercise the franchise of suffrage in an election close at hand for the presidency and vice-presidency of the United States, and through him, as the letter suggested, to influence the votes of many others. Upon this correspondence being made public the Minister received the representatives of the public press and in frequent interviews with them, intended for publication, added to the impugnments which he had already made of the good faith of this government in its public action and international dealings. Although ample time and opportunity have been afforded him for the disavowal, modification or correction of his statements, to some of which his attention was called personally by the undersigned, yet no such disavowal or modification has been made by him through the channels in which his statements first found publicity. The question is thus presented, whether it is compatible with the dignity, security and independent sovereignty of the United States to permit the representative of a foreign government in this country, not only to receive and answer without disapproval, and confirm by his repetition, aspersions upon its political action, but also to interfere in its domestic affairs by advising persons, formerly his countrymen, as to their political course as citizens of the United States. As between this country and Great Britain there can be no controversy as to the complete severance of the ties of the original allegiance by naturalization. Disputes on this point were finally put at rest by the treaty of naturalization concluded between the two countries on the 13th day of May, 1870. Therefore, it will not be contended there was such contention ever admitted by the United States that citizens of the United States of British origin are subject to any claim on the country of their original allegiance. The undersigned has the honor to call attention to the provisions of section 5335 of the revised statutes of the United States, by which severe penalties are visited upon the citizen of the United States who, without the authority of or permission of this government commences or carries on any verbal or written correspondence or intercourse with any foreign government, or any officer or agent thereof, either with an intent to influence the action of such government or its agents in relation to any disputes or controversies with the United States, or with an intent to defeat the measures of the Government of the United States. Those penalties are made equally applicable to every citizen of the United States, not duly authorized, who counsels, or assists in any such correspondence with similar unlawful intent. The undersigned respectfully advises that the attention of the Attorney-General of the United States be directed to these enactments, in order that an investigation may be made with a view to ascertain whether they have not been violated in the present case by the correspondence of the British Minister. By your direction the attention of the British Government has, in a spirit of courtesy, been called to the conduct of the minister as above described, but without result.

It therefore becomes necessary for this government to consider whether, as a guardian of its own self-respect and of its institutions, it will permit further intercourse to be held through the present British minister at the capital. It is to be observed that the precedents are not wanting as to the question under consideration. It is the settled rule, essential to the maintenance of international intercourse, that the diplomatic representative must be persona grata to the government to which he is accredited. If by his conduct he renders himself persona non grata, an announcement of the fact may be made to his government. In the present case, all the requirements of courtesy have been fulfilled, the facts having been duly communicated to Her Majesty's government, with an expression of opinion of this government in regard thereto. Respectfully submitted.

(Signed) "T. F. BAYARD."

THE FAR NORTH

A Few Notes Concerning Mines and Mining.

Capt. Carroll says that early next spring he will commence active development work on his Basin property.

A number of parties here are making calculations to take pumping machinery into the Yukon next season to work some of the high rich bars both on Forty Mile and on the main Yukon. They state that the ground being frozen will be of no great impediment, as, when the moss is stripped off, running water and the long hours of sunshine will thaw it out about as fast as the gravel can be washed.

Many of the Yukon miners do not believe the reports of the drowning of the man Taggart, commonly called "Jean," last summer. They think he is still living.

Dick Willoughby has returned to his bonanza on Admiralty Island to begin work for the next erection of a stamp mill.

A miner just out from the Yukon informs us that the Indians there are taking an active interest in placer mining, and considerable gold was taken out by them during the past summer. He expresses the belief that through them some valuable discoveries will be made, as they now understand the value of gold, and knowing the country thoroughly, they will prospect for the precious metal.

SALISBURY'S DIPLOMACY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—What a keen clever diplomatist Lord Salisbury is? The recent acts and words of the American President and Congress have been tokens of unfriendliness, if not quasi war, so Lord Salisbury considers Lord Sackville should not be recalled, as a sign that England will put up with any amount of insults from any foreign power. He leaves the President to require the recall. Bravo! Bob Cecil! A CANADIAN.

LORD WEST'S TREATMENT.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 31—The British-American societies here are very much exercised. They number 14,000 members in this state and all are much incensed at the treatment the British Minister has met.

WHAT BOWELL SAYS.

Ottawa, Oct. 31—The Minister of Customs, who has just returned from the Pacific coast, where has been looking into the Chinese question, says no matter how stringent the U. S. laws may be this channel will always be used by Chinese for that purpose. There is no work for them now in British Columbia and no inducements for them to immigrate and their leaving China is apparent. In order that the friendly relations existing between China and Great Britain may not be disturbed, the British Government has been requested that no more stringent legislation than is now in force may be enacted in Canada against the Chinese.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Fresno, Cal., Oct. 31—A train containing A. W. Packard and his niece, Sadie Davis, aged 13, ran away last night. The girl was killed and Packard severely injured.

London, Oct. 31—The Empress of Austria, who is suffering from acute rheumatism, contemplates a voyage to the West Indies followed by a tour in the United States.

ELECTION TALK.

New York, Oct. 31—The Journal this morning says that England is quietly arming Canada against the United States. New forts for Kingston, new forts at Halifax and a system of forts for the Pacific coast are not merely talked of, but already under way. The Canadian transcontinental railroad is to be a hostile line drawn to the north of the United States. The Journal believes that the retaliation law, incomplete as it is, should be enforced.

PACIFIC COAST CO.

San Francisco, Oct 29—The published statement is made here that the Oregon Improvement Company has purchased the property of the California and Mexico Steamship Company, thus giving the Guaymas trade to the Pacific Coast Steamship Company. The price is understood to be something like $200,000 for the steamers Mexico and Newburn. The Newburn will remain in the Guaymas trade, and the Mexico will be temporarily supplanted by the Queen of the Pacific on the Northern line.

ICE BOUND WHALERS.

San Francisco, Oct. 29—Old tars along the water-front were much engaged yesterday discussing the situation of the 13 whaling vessels imprisoned in the Arctic.

The chart of the first mate of the Howland shows that the fleet is a little south of latitude 71 degrees, about 45 miles from Herald Island, and about southeast therefrom. The pool or lake in the ice in which they are is an oval body of whater some 20 miles long by about 15 miles wide. The whalers are gathered in the south end of the pool, close to the spot where the western and northwestern packs come together, and through which the steamer Rosaria was unable to force her way. The appearance of the ice packs is deceptive, long points extending far out into the water and misleading the fleet as to the spots where openings are. Among whalers here opinions differ as to the probable fate of the icebound men. Those here having relatives aboard are not disposed to view the situation in a hopeful light.

HOME GOVERNMENT NOTIFIED.

London, Oct. 31—Salisbury to-day received a dispatch from Bayard notifying him of the action taken by the United States Government in handing Sackville his passports.

THE COMMISSION.

The Parnell commission, resumed this morning. Webster called Capt. O'Shea who stated that at Parnell's request he conferred with Gladstone June, 1881. The interview was accomplished without the knowledge of Parnell's colleagues. After Gladstone's speech was made in the Commons on May 16, 1882, Parnell spoke of the awkwardness of the speech and how it annoyed Egan. Other negotiations were discontinued. In 1882, when Parnell and Dillon were in Kilmainham jail, proposals which the witness made the Government in 1882, were made without the authority of Parnell. After Parnell's return from Paris he conferred with the witness at the latter's house and conferences were always alone. Parnell desired to release Davitt from prison, but not Brennan. Parnell also authorized the witness to confer with the Government and said if the question regarding arrears in rent was settled satisfactorily he would advise the tenants to pay rents, and would himself denounce as an outrage all resistance to law. Parnell said he had power to carry out this guarantee.

SPORTING NEWS.

The Football Contest Between Westminster and Vancouver.

The long looked for football match between Westminster and Vancouver took place Monday afternoon. The weather was perfect and a large crowd of spectators assembled to see the game. Capt. Fripp, of the Vancouver team, won the toss and they elected to play down the field. When the men were stripped and placed on the field it was seen that Westminster had the advantage of weight, and it did not take long after play commenced to discover that they were superior to the Vancouver team in every respect. The ball was kicked off at 2:15, and after ten minutes playing, Rev. Mr. Woods passed the ball to White, who secured a touch down by a brilliant run. Lewis, the New Westminster captain, quickly converted this into a goal. The second time down for Westminster was obtained by Lewis, and this was converted into another goal, and at the end of half time, after a splendid exhibition of football by the Westminster team, the score stood three goals and one try for Westminster to nothing for Vancouver. When play was resumed the luck of Vancouver did not change, and after 40 minutes of pretty and brilliant playing by the Westminster team, the score stood: 7 goals and two tries for Westminster to Vancouver's nothing. Individually, the finest player on the grounds was Rev. P. Woods, whose passing and field kicking were magnificent. The feature of the day was the goal kicked by him from one side of the field. Dr. Smith also played a brilliant game. The playing of Greame, Lewis and Lister is also worthy of mention.

THROWING THE HAMMER.

The match game of throwing a 16-pound hammer between D. S. McLeod and John Smith, of Wellington, took place on "the Green," Nanaimo, on Monday morning. Considerable outside money was staked on the result, and consequently the match elicited a good deal of interest. D. L. McLeod was the winner with a throw of 89 ft. 4 in., John Smith's longest throw being 88 ft. 1 inch.

TEEMER-O'CONNOR.

Sale of Work.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian Church held a sale of work this afternoon. The table containing fancy and woolen work was presided over by Mrs. Alex. Wilson, Miss Teague, Miss Robertson and Mrs McKillican. The plain work was disposed of by Mrs. Semple and Mrs. Muneis. The candy stand was in charge of Mrs. James Welsh and Miss Tyson. At 6 o'clock this evening refreshments were served in the school-room under the superintendence of Mrs. Flett, Mrs. Turple, Miss Stevens, Miss Watson and Mrs. Fraser. The sale will be continued this evening and an interesting programme of music will be given.

Narrow Escape.

A man named Jones walked overboard this morning while attempting to board the Olympian. He went down twice, when Officer Levin threw off his helmet and coat and tying a rope under his arms jumped into the bay. He saw the man rise again and assisted him to grasp a pile. One of the men belonging to the steamer assisted Officer Levin in rescuing the man. Jones was taken aboard the steamer which left shortly after. Officer Levin's conduct was well spoken of by those around the wharf.

WORTHY OF A GOOSE.

People are getting very much interested in knowing when that vacancy in the city representation, predicted by the Colonist, will take place. When our contemporary stated that it would occur no doubt-less expressed what he believed to be, not, only a necessity but a course founded upon precedent and political decency. Mr. Duck, however, chooses to disregard both necessity and decency, and to hold on to the bone as well as the shadow, with a tenacity scarcely to be expected of him. So old a political bird as Mr. Duck is, we should think, would have learned before this that two nests cannot be occupied at one and the same time with any degree of comfort. Even the ex-Finance Minister, with his abundance of political feathers and experience with one kind of phenomena and another, cannot perform the trick of getting astride them both with the prospect of any results, unless it is to raise a brood of troubles for himself. If Mr. Duck, however, persists in an attempt, so worthy of a goose, it will be the duty of the ratepayers to pull the foolish old bird off both sits and submerge her in the waters of oblivion. It is, strange, but nevertheless a fact, that this Duck manages to bungle everything he gets into. No sane person would persist in making enemies for himself at the rate Mr. Duck is. We tell him again that the people are opposed to him holding the seat in the Legislature while he is Treasurer of the city of Victoria.

INTERESTING QUESTIONS.

Our valuable contemporary, the News-Advertiser, acting on the principle that a paper has a right to give support to the government which helps to support it, says of the recent sale of lands in that city:

"Can anyone suggest any better method than has been adopted in the present case, where the proposed sale was widely advertised for a long period before the date on which it was to take place, and it was held in the city most convenient for the majority of those who would be likely to be purchasers? The disposal of the public domain so as to realize the largest possible amount for the Provincial Treasury, while at the same time we obtain what is as important, an increase in the number of cultivators of the soil, are the two things to be aimed at in the administration of the public lands. If, therefore, there is a better plan to be followed than that hitherto adopted, it is the duty of those who criticise the present method, to state the improvement they would suggest in order that the same may be considered and substituted for that now customary if it should seem advisable to do so."

Will our Vancouver contemporary, who is so much taken up with the Provincial Secretary's "methods," answer a few questions on this subject? What benefit was there, or what was the object in the sale being "widely advertised," when the Provincial Secretary had made arrangements with intending purchasers to allow the squatters to buy in the property at their own figures? What was the nature of this "arrangement" which a mainland paper (the Columbian in fact) states was made by the Government with parties at the sale? Was the arrangement made absolutely on behalf of the province? Please be explicit on this point. In view of the "arrangement," what does our contemporary mean by the "disposal of the public domain so as to realize the largest possible amount for the provincial treasury?" Is the News-Advertiser really, honestly sincere in the impression it wishes to convey, or is it winking at and condoning another of those fishy transactions "put up" by the "father of Vancouver?"

A COMPARISON.

The advocates of protection claim that high duties tend to aid in the development of the manufacturing industry and therefore to benefit the whole country. There is very much to be said on both sides of the question of protection vs. free trade, and partizans too frequently run to extremes in their arguments for or against a particular fiscal policy. So much depends upon the circumstances of the country adopting high protective duties that the efficacy of this expedient for making "better times" is seldom demonstrable, and so the battle of the two great parties goes on much to the confusion of the earnest searcher after a true system of commercial and national economics. It is seldom that a fair test of the two systems, side by side, for a sufficient series of years to make the experiment of value, has taken place; but in the case of the two Australian colonies of Victoria and New South Wales we have a pretty authentic account of the relative merits of two fiscal policies diametrically opposed to each other, as tried under conditions almost identical. In 1866 the colony of Victoria adopted protection, while the adjoining colony of New South Wales adhered to "tariff for revenue only." In twenty years the protective colony had increased its 636,982 people to 1,033,052, or 62 per cent., while the revenue tariff colony's population of only 431,412 had increased to 1,030,762, or 139 per cent. There was no special boom of New South Wales—rather if anything the boom was on the other side—and the two colonies are alike in all material respects: population, climate, &c. In the ten years between 1871-81 Victoria, the protective colony, lost a number equal to her entire immigration (about 53,000) and about 15,000 of her natural increase, and it was found that the able-bodied men were leaving the protection colony for the other. While the positive loss to the protective colony during these ten years was 35,916 of her population, the other colony showed a gain of 32,716 of males between the ages of 25 and 45. In 1871 Victoria was 52,158 ahead of New South Wales, and in 1881 she was 16,494 behind, a change of 68,632. In the ten fiscal years the revenue of Victoria rose 105 per cent.; in New South Wales it rose 275 per cent.; the one rising from £3,079,160 to £6,290,361, while the other jumped from only £2,012,079 to £7,584,593. In foreign trade the "revenue tariff" colony passed the protective colony altogether. In three years its imports and exports exceeded the other by £8,090,293 (about forty and a half million dollars), and in shipping it left the protective colony in its wake by about 860,000 tons. In 1886 Victoria had 2,813 manufactories employing 49,297 persons, against New South Wales' 3,612 establishments employing about 45,783 persons. Since that time Victoria—the protected colony—has added 510 to her number, while New South Wales, the "revenue tariff" colony has added 1,256. These are remarkable facts which Canadians might study to advantage. The conditions in Australia and Canada are, we admit, different, but there is not such a wide divergence as to explain away the seeming inconsistencies, or to account for a failure there being a success here. The true policy of Canada on the Pacific is greater freedom of trade and when the present tempest in a tea-pot and the Presidential election are over it will be the duty of our statesmen to make greater efforts than they have in the past to remove some of the obstacles to commercial intercourse with our neighbors as well as with the mother country.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—There are a number of varieties of corns. Holloway's Corn Cure will remove any of them. Call on your druggist and get a bottle at once.

—There are no special market days now. Every day is market day. This is another step in advance. But the verandahs still linger.

—Do not delay in getting relief for the little folks. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is a pleasant and sure cure. If you love your child why do you let it suffer when a remedy is so near at hand.

—"The trouble with pa," said Mrs. Bently, "is that he lets little little things worry him. He was mad this morning because the baby kept him awake all night."—Harper's Bazar.

—Excellent reasons exist why Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil should be used by persons troubled with affections of the throat or lungs, sores upon the skin, rheumatic pain, corns, bunions, or external injuries. The reasons are, that it is speedy, pure and unobjectionable, whether taken internally or applied outwardly.

—Hotel Proprietor—What have you said or done to that lady that she should pass you in that angry way? Her eyes darted fire at you. Clerk—She expected a letter in the morning's mail, and I told her it had'nt come.

—A dilapidated physique may be built up and fortified against disease by that incomparable promoter of digestion and fertilizer of the blood, Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure. It counteracts billiousness and kidney complaints, overcomes bodily ailments special with the feebler sex, causes the bowels to act like clockwork, and is a safeguard against malaria and rheumatism.

—Zukertort, the great chess player, who died some time ago at Charing Cross hospital, could play 12 games of chess blindfolded and win them all, against ordinary players. He had the reputation of being the most brilliant chess player of modern times.

—Miss Mary Campbell, Elm, writes: "After taking four bottles of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, I feel as if I were a new person. I had been troubled with dyspepsia for a number of years, and tried many remedies, but of no avail, until I used this celebrated Dyspeptic Cure." For all impurities of the blood, sick headache, liver and kidney complaints, costiveness, etc., it is the best medicine known.

—The Mayor issued a proclamation in the midst of the riots last week calling on the public to avoid congregating in public places, and had the same prominently posted on several bulletin boards along Madison street. The result was that great crowds assembled to read the proclamation.—Chicago Globe.

—Messrs. Northrop & Lyman are the proprietors of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which is now being sold in immense quantities throughout the Dominion. It is welcomed by the suffering invalid everywhere with emotions of delight, because it banishes pain and gives instant relief. This valuable specific for almost "every ill that flesh is heir to," is valued by the sufferer as more precious than gold. It is the elixir of life to many a wasted frame. If you have not purchased a bottle, do so at once, and keep it ready for an emergency. Its cheapness, 25 cents per bottle, places it within the reach of all. To the farmer it is indispensable, and it should be in every house.

OUR OTTAWA LETTER.

How Sir A. Caron and Hon. J. Costigan Got Possession of a Poor Man's Farm.

Talk with Gen. Middleton—South American Trade—Going to England—Woman's Power.

From Our Own Correspondent.]

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—Two ministers of the Crown, as I briefly telegraphed you at the time, have been accused of one of the most shameful and grave charges that could be formulated against any public men. They are Sir. A. P. Caron and Hon. John Costigan. I would like to believe, for the sake of Canadian statesmen—even if the past record of Hon. John and his timber limit schemes and the belted knight and his "blanket" job were not very bright—that the charges were untrue, but in the face of sworn declarations and all the official correspondence on the shady transaction, it is impossible to do so. Jean Baptiste Leclaire owned some lots in Ottawa county fronting the river Lievre, on which he lived peaceably and undisturbed for some 28 years, up to 1884. About that time he discovered that there were phosphate of lime to the rear of them, the front part being alone fit for cultivation. He informed a neighbor, James McCabe, of the fact, who in turn, it is said, informed Hon. John Costigan. McCabe, not long ago pleaded guilty to an indictment for having obtained money under false pretenses. Mr. Leclaire had on several occasions offered to buy his patent but could not do so as the township was not thrown open for settlement until 1884. The land agent in his report sets forth that Leclaire was in every way a bona fide settler, having made valuable improvements and built good houses, and, under the mining act of the province, was entitled to have the preference of purchasing mineral lands on his settlement. Mr. Lynch, commissioner of government lands, was now in a fix, having promised the lots to the two ministers, and the law was against him. He so wrote Sir A. P. Caron. An effort was made to get the land agent to change his report. He refused. Another man Collins who is an official of the Quebec Crown Lands Department, was appointed to make a favorable report for Mr. Costigan, and he did so. The outcome of the affair was that the ministers got the lands and Leclaire, an honest, hard working settler, 28 years residing on the same, was shamefully cheated out of them. It is satisfactory to learn that the Quebec Government have taken steps to cancel the grant to the two ministers on the ground that it was obtained through misrepresentation, so that Leclaire will once more be placed on the lands which are his by law and equity. A grant of $3,000 was made by the Dominion Government two years ago for a railway leading from the Lievre river to the mines of Costigan and Sir Adolphe. Talk of boodling, but the world only knows a few solitary instances out of the very many that exist in what we are pleased to call this fair Dominion.

C BATTERY.

I had a chat with Sir Fred Middleton, who by the way carries his title as easily, and perhaps with fully as much credit to the honor—if such it could be called nowadays—as do the majority of Canadian knights, in regard to affairs in British Columbia on his return yesterday. As you know he was inspecting the coast. "I am well satisfied," said he, "with the militia at Victoria. C Battery is in every respect well equipped and a credit to the Province. I hope that the barracks for C Battery at Victoria will soon be built." Turning to the proposed fortifications at Esquimalt, Sir Fred did not care to talk freely, but supposed that the Imperial Government would go on with the work as soon as they were ready to do so. The statement telegraphed to the Colonist from here to the effect that the fortifications were to be adandoned was something he never heard of, and as far as his information went, untrue.

SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE.

Mr. Simeon Jones, of St. John, N. B., who was sent to South America last spring by the Dominion Government to learn as to the best methods to adopt for the development of trade between the two countries, was here to-day. Your correspondent had a pleasant chat with him. I am no believer in these trips at the country's expense, no good having come out of any of them. In this case Mr. Jones proceeded for Rio and Buenos Ayres by way of London, England, although the nearest route was via New York. Like all of them are—a holiday outing, or a trip to a disaffected or needy follower of the party. His report will be printed, his salary and expenses paid, and that is the last of it. Although Mr. Simeon Jones talked freely and makes some recommendations in his report to the government regarding the class of boats to be built for the trade with Canada and South America, I found he discovered little that could not be learned without ever leaving Ottawa. Canada, to subsidy such a line of steamers as Mr. Jones speaks of, would be bonusing steamships doing trade with the United States and South America or with South America and England. Such reports as commissioners have already made on trade between Canada and other countries are going to waste in the archives of the Parliament buildings. Just as big a farce as having a representative in Paris, France, who succeeded in sending to this country one emigrant in a year, and who has never made any report, although getting some thousands per year.

GOING TO ENGLAND.

It is stated, but I cannot verify the truth of it, that Sir John Macdonald intends to go to England in a very short time in connection with the fishery difficulty. If such is the case he will leave early so as to be there about the time the Presidential election in the States is over, and in time to return for the opening of Parliament in January. In the event of his going Lady Macdonald will accompany him. As a matter of fact she has been more than attentive to the Premier for the past few years—ever since his severe illness—and I am satisfied that not alone to her good nursing but also to her assistance in public matters, the jaunty air, keen eye and healthful look of her husband is greatly due. She manipulates wires, if not as well, just as keenly as does the old man, and of late he has accepted her views. Every one knows that it was the influence of Lady Macdonald that secured the Interior Department for Mr. Dewdney, and young Mr. Tupper was another of her choice. It was a bold stroke the Dewdney appointment, and if I am rightly informed, Lady Macdonald succeeded in removing some of the greater difficulties in the way. Every member of the party, outside of British Columbia, was against it. But all opposition vanished and John Haggart and Mr. Dewdney sit side by side in the utmost harmony. Petitioners have more to do with the Government of Canada than the vast majority are aware of. "Yes," said a Conservative member of Parliament to me one day, "I owe my nomination to Lady Macdonald. It was in this way: There was a hitch in the party as to whether I should get the nomination or not. I thought the chieftain could settle it and I went to Ottawa. I had a long interview with him at his residence at Earnscliffe. But I could not get him to recommend me to the heads of the party, and left him with disgust. As I was leaving I met Lady Macdonald, who asked me how I succeeded. Very badly, I answered. Never mind for the present; you will get the nomination all right. So I did, but I did not think it just then." SLABTOWN.

KOOTENAY NEWS.

Bridge Opened—An Indian Highwayman—A Mistake.

From our own Correspondent.]

A correspondent writing from Fort Steele says that for the past four months not a drop of rain has fallen and the crops now gathered in have been unusually good, the yield of grain and potatoes being very large.

On the 4th of October the Kootenay bridge was formally opened by Mr. Galbraith, ex-M. P. P. It is a fine structure and is a great boon to the district and is creditable to the builder, Mr. William Rochett, of Victoria. It takes the place of the Kootenay Ferry, established a quarter of a century ago by the late Mr. J. T. Galbraith, J. P., who obtained the first charter from the Colonial Government through the Hon. P. O'Reilly, the gold commissioner here. It remained in the possession of the Messrs. Galbraith since that period up to the present time, not a serious accident occurring during the whole time.

The latest Indian news is that the Indians are killing the settlers' cattle at Tobacco Plains. The settlers are about to form themselves into a committee of safety, and will mete out punishment to the offenders. The Indians have killed in all about twelve head of cattle.

News from the Columbia Lakes is rather of an alarming nature, "Capla," the supposed murderer of poor Kemp, recently "held up" Bob Wooda, a teamster, and robbed him of $13, tied him to a horse and threatened to kill him with a knife. After leading him around for several hours he finally turned him over to another Indian who took him to Windermere Hotel and then left him. When Wooda reached Fort Steele he swore out a warrant against "Capla" before Fred. Aylmer, J. P., who placed the warrant in Constable Dennis' hands, who immediately started for Tobacco Plains, where "Capla" is supposed to have gone. Here he will meet with Mr. Phillips, J. P., Indian agent, who no doubt will aid Con't. Dennis in the matter

We learn that Mr. Vowell, S. M., is on his way here, and his long experience will be extremely useful in case of resistance on the part of the Indians. It is generally admitted the removal of the N. W. M. Police was a serious mistake, and the consequences are beginning now to be realised. Few officers were better able to meet an Indian difficulty and settle it promptly and satisfactory than Major Steele, and his removal from the district if much felt.

The prospects of the Perry Creek Mining Co. are good; a wash up will take place shortly and the results be made known.

Fatal Neglect

The breaking of the smallest wheel in a mammoth factory, if not repaired or replaced, will ruin the entire plant, as a speck of dust will derange the delicate machinery of a watch. Were people as thoughtful to repair their broken health on the first approach of disease, as the owner is to mend his machinery, they would escape indescribable suffering, and often death. Slight causes will sometimes derange the digestive organs, on whose healthy action the health of the whole system so much depends, and feverish blood, headaches, and consumption itself, set in. The wise person will at once arrest the cause of these unhealthy symptoms, resorting to that world-famed remedy, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which purifies the blood and cures liver disease. Of all druggists.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous. *

POLICE COURT.

[Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q.C.]

A charge of fast driving on James Bay bridge was preferred by Officer Gaydeu against John Black, driver of a butcher wagon. Remanded to obtain further evidence.

James Stellinger was charged with being drunk by Officer Thomas. Fined $5.

Augustus Barry, a hackman, was charged with overcharging a passenger and furious driving over James Bay bridge. Acting Supt. Shephard said the man was before the court on several occasions and received a badge and a license. He was a nuisance and left the city. It was a usual practice for the man to leave the city for a short time and return. Officer Mitten proved service of summons on Monday last.

C. A. Lombard said:—I was out at the wharf to see a friend going off on the steamer; saw Barry and asked whether his hack was engaged; Barry answered, "no." I jumped in the hack and another man was picked up; told Barry to take all the passengers he could induce to ride; when I arrived home I handed him 50 cents; after entering my gate Barry said: "Hold on, that is not enough." I told him that I never paid any more. Barry asked me whether I thought he was a sucker and said he wanted a dollar and said he would thrash a dollar out of me. Gave him another fifty cents.

Acting Supt. Sheppard said the by-law fixes the charge at fifty cents from the outer wharf.

Barry was fined $5 and $3 costs. Supt. Sheppard said the defendant has nothing on which the amount can be levied.

His Honor—If the defendant returns and does not pay the fine he will be imprisoned for ten days.

Mary Peterson, an Indian woman, was charged with being intoxicated. Fined $5.

David Craigie, one of the boys charged with stealing grain sacks, was remanded until Saturday.

The Worst Nasal Catarrh,

no matter of how long standing, is absolutely cured by Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It does not merely give relief, but produces permanent cures in the worst cases. 50 cents, by druggists. wed-sat.

Sin of Schism.

Archdeacon Woods preached a sermon on Sunday morning in New Westminster which occasioned much comment. He begged his hearers not to attend the services which would shortly be held in that city by a "revivalist" (Mr. Moody) as it would be a sin of schism.

Dutiable Goods.

The total dutiable goods entered in the Dominion for consumption in September, exclusive of British Columbia, was $6,600,000; duty collected, $2,152,000. Free goods, nearly $3,000,000. The exports last month were valued at $9,520,000. Deposits in the postoffice savings banks, $22,000,000.

Serious Accident.

A longshoreman named W. Hardy, broke his leg on Government street at 5:20 last night. He was assisting in removing a piano from a dray to M. W. Waitt's music store when the instrument slipped and fell on the man's leg, breaking it above the ankle. Drs. Davie and Helmcken set the fracture and conveyed the unfortunate man to the Royal Hospital.

Shooting at Maple Bay.

Fred. Beaumont's wound will not be as serious as was reported. Dr. Rowbotham found that the bullet struck a rib and glanced off. The young man walked home, a distance of two miles, after receiving the wound, and is in a fair way of recovery. Constables Kier and Maingay are searching for the guilty party, but so far without success.

Theatre To-Night.

The Boyd-Maubury Company will appear at the Victoria Theatre this evening in "Passion's Slave." The company arrived in this city last night and were engaged to-day in placing their fine scenery and preparing for the presentation of the drama this evening. As this will be the last opportunity afforded our citizens to see this worthy company they should turn out in large numbers this evening.

Rochester Comedy Company.

Widow O'Brien was given last night by the Rochester Company in the Victoria Theatre. The audience was not large; but the company gave a performance which kept the audience in roars of laughter for three hours. The troupe left this morning for Nanaimo and will return on Saturday, giving a matinee on Saturday afternoon, for which occasion they will present "Silver and Junior" and the "Doll's Quadrille." On Saturday evening they will play "Widow O'Brien." At the matinee a large doll will be presented to the lucky child whose ticket corresponds with the number drawn at the conclusion of the performance.

A Notorious Chinaman.

Ah Jap, the notorious Chinese pilot who causes the United States authorities an endless amount of trouble, was again arrested at Port Townsend on Monday and ordered sent back to British Columbia. Assistant United States Attorney Munday and Customs Inspector Bolton Rogers were walking down to the wharf to take the boat for Seattle, when Mr. Munday descried the familiar form of Ah Jap with a roll of blankets on his back a few feet ahead of him, also bound for the Seattle boat evidently. Inspector Rogers arrested Ah Jap in spite of his vigorous protest and he was at once accorded a trial.

The Escapade.

Officers were out searching the woods around the Provincial gaol on Monday night but found no trace of the two sailors belonging to the Narcoos. It is likely that they will never be captured. The other two were getting away nicely when they embraced a sapling which stands guard near the prison. How two men could escape with their handcuffs on is one of the mysteries which no one can understand. We would advise the Provincial officials to tie the legs of prisoners and carry them to the conveyance when they send men to ships or over to the Supreme Court.

The Uniforms.

By the courtesy of Mr. Milne, the gentlemanly appraiser of H. M.'s customs at this port, we were permitted to view the new uniforms which have arrived from England for the officers and men of the C. P. N. Co. Commodore John Irving, the genial commander of the C. P. N. fleet, donned the uniform and expresses great satisfaction at its general appearance. The captain's other officers' uniform is the usual Trinity House pattern, full dress frock coat of fine navy blue cloth, with three rings of narrow gold lace (naval pattern) round the cuffs of each sleeve, the upper ring twining in a single loop, gold embroidered anchor on lapels of collar, gilt buttons, with the ensign of the company (a St. Andrews cross), with wreath underneath, and the letters "C. P. N. Co." on top. The waistcoat and trousers are of fine navy blue cloth, the former single-breasted with small gilt buttons. Cap (usual naval pattern) of navy blue cloth, projecting peak, broad gold lace (naval pattern) band with the ensign of the company, gold embroidered in front, in which the St. Andrew's cross is in red velvet pile, wreathed underneath and the letters "C. P. N. Co." on top. The uniform of the purser is similar in material and pattern to that of the captain, with the exception that the lace and embroidery are in silver instead of gold. The quartermasters are of a coarser material, the cost of the "sack" pattern, buttons same pattern. The stewards and seamen are of the usual naval style, blue blouse, with the letters "C. P. N. Co." in red across the breast; cap ordinary seamans with "C. P. N. Co." in gilt letters on a band in front. Taken altogether the outfit is a credit to this enterprising company, and will match well with the magnificence of the new ship Islander, which may be expected at this port sometime about the end of next month.

CRIMINAL LIBEL.

Charge Against the Colonist—Mayor Grant's Cross-Examination.

[Our report yesterday brought the proceedings in this case down to the cross-examination of Mayor Grant by Theo. Davie. The following is the balance of the evidence taken up to the adjournment of the court:]

His Honor—The Mayor should give his evidence on the first opportunity and clear the matter up. It would not do Mr. Grant any harm to give the whole evidence immediately.

Mr. Mills—Mr. Grant is only too willing to walk into the witness box and answer all questions. His legal advisers claimed a legal right and he is following their directions.

His Honor—To end the matter I will decide that Mr. Davie shall have the right to cross-examine.

Mayor Grant, cross-examined by Mr. Davie:

Mr. Davie—At the meeting of the Council on the 26th of Sept., were you aware of these shortages? Were you not then in possession of the data of these shortages?

The Mayor—That question has been objected to by Mr. Mills.

Mr. Davie—I asked a question and I do not think the Mayor has a right to be prompted by Mr. Mills.

The Mayor—I know my position and also your practice.

His Honor—Don't you think we had better adjourn? You must all keep cool.

Mr. Mills—The other side are getting excited now. I want that question made a little more explicit.

His Honor—By proving that the Mayor was aware of the defalcations, and by answering that question in the affirmative, you wish to rebut that information on which the alleged charge is based. The question is not whether the information is true or false but whether malice existed.

Mr. Mills—The cross-examination should be limited. Malice may be shown even when articles are true. The question of malice is exclusively for a jury.

His Honor—I think you ought to answer it.

Mayor Grant—Sometime in July I incidentally met Mr. Bales on the street, and asked how he was getting along with the audit; he said they found some matters that were not straight or correct, or language to that effect. I said to Mr. Bales I could not believe that the party accused could be guilty of such conduct. Mr. Bales asked me whether I wished to see some of the items they had found, which had been changed or were incorrect. I said, "Yes, I would, certainly." We went to Mr. Bales' office and he turned up two or three different items which did not appear to be correct. Mr. Bales said he was satisfied there was dishonesty in connection with the books and the handling of the funds. I said to Mr. Bales: "Is it not possible that some of those things you are showing me could be explained." I said I was not prepared to condemn anyone until they had an opportunity to furnish an explanation. That ended the interview at that time. I am now satisfied of the correctness of my opinion at that time from what has transpired since, in respect to some of the items of cash unaccounted for in the books. In the presence of myself and several other gentlemen, Mr. Robinson, who has been charged with complicity with Mr. Russell in the defalcations, convinced the auditors that they were wrong at least in one item of the charge. The reason for my not saying anything about the irregular entries which Mr. Bales showed me was because the conduct of the audit was taken out of my hands by the Council and placed under the control of the Finance Committee, by the City. I knew of these irregularities some time before I was made aware of them. It was for the Finance Committee to instruct the auditors to have brought in an intermediate report. Not only had the Council taken control of the audit, but the auditors so understood that that was the true position of responsibility, inasmuch as when they had completed their labors in the audit of the accounts to the end of 1887, I was not made acquainted with the completion of their work; neither was the report handed to me, nor did I know that it had been handed to the Chairman of the Finance Committee only through floating rumors about town. When the Chairman of the Finance Committee did not present the auditors' report on the night of the 19th of last September to the Council the report was withdrawn and brought to me on the following Saturday under cover. On Monday following I met Mr. Sargison and Mr. Raymur, who asked me if I was going away on the Wednesday following, and stated that they had seen it so stated in the paper. I said: "No, not until after the meeting of the Council on Wednesday night." They asked whether I intended to present the report; I said certainly, and I remarked at the same time to Mr. Sargison that it would be well for them for the purpose of checking and verifying to hand in the notes upon which they obtained the finding. Mr. Sargison said: "No; they might have to be submitted to some other tribunal." On the occasion referred to I think Mr. Bales showed me an entry of $26.50, credited to James Young, and said his impression was that there should be an entry in favor of James Yates for $426.50. I saw the stub of the receipt. He showed me something about a wrong entry regarding one Lung Chung. It was as competent for anyone to change the figures. I could not convict Mr. Russell without giving him a chance, and the matter was taken out of my hands by the Council. Mr. Bales, I believe, showed me where a figure was altered. It was possible that someone else altered the figures. That was one of the reasons that occurred to me at the time; the other was that the matter might have been explained and adjusted, as was done in regard to another sum of $50 in another part of the book. I think Mr. Bales showed me when Lun Chung was credited with $5 instead of $250; that is another matter that might be adjusted. In another part of the book the matter was taken out of my hands and I kept my mouth shut; inasmuch as anything the Council does legally I have no right to interfere with. Another reason why I said nothing to anyone in any official way was because the gentlemen accused by Mr. Bales had lived in this portion of the world for 35 years; had filled responsible positions and handled cash of societies, estates, and mercantile concerns with clean fingers and enjoyed a reputation till that time in handling the moneys of other people with as much credit to himself as either Mr. Davie or myself. I did not suspend Mr. Russell. It was not my legal right to suspend Mr. Russell. I had no right to call on Mr. Russell for an explanation as there was no accusation. I would act in the same manner again under like circumstances. I had no business to take any action and remained very friendly with Mr. Russell.

Mr. Davie—Were you at the Club Theatre on the 4th of September?

Witness—I cannot tell the exact date on which I went to the Club Theatre. I might have been there on the date mentioned. I will tell your Honor why I went there.

Mr. Davie—We do not want to know why you went there. Were you there at the Club Theatre on that date?

Witness—Your Honor, when I give evidence I want to do it in my own way. If the learned gentleman takes up a cannon ball I cannot help it if it falls on his toes. The first time I went to the Club Theatre I was induced to go from the knowledge that Mr. Theodore Davie was the proprietor of the license, and I had a curiosity to find out how the business of the house was conducted under his management. I am happy to say that I did not see anything reprehensible presented on the stage any more than at any other place in the world.

His Honor—What is the object of all this?

Mr. Mills—The object is to insult the Mayor.

Mr. Davie—This is quite an advertisement for the Club Theatre. Were you at the Club Theatre more than once?

Witness—I went there two or three times with Mr. Russell; it might have been in August; I have been there three, four, or perhaps a dozen times; I did not keep a record of the number of times I went there nor of the number of times that you have been seen leaving saloons late at night drunk.

Mr. Davie (excitedly)—That is nice language from the Mayor, who is fast becoming a drunken sot.

Witness—Mr. Davie asked the question and brought this on himself. If Mr. Davie—

Mr. Davie—(In a terrible state of excitement) This is the most malicious, untruthful blackguard that ever stepped into a witness box.

Witness—(Cooly) If you take a look at yourself in a looking glass you will see a bigger one.

Mr. Mills—Your Honor will now see where the malice is.

Mr. Davie—Were you in the greenroom at the Club Theatre?

Witness—I never saw a greenroom; you ought to know whether the room is private; I had several drinks, not very many, with Russell at the Club Theatre, after seeing Mr. Bales. The control of the audit was taken out of my hands in March last; not only was that the case, but the committee named the auditors; this was done by resolution of the council.

Court adjourned at 5:20 until 11:30 a. m. on Friday next.

ESQUIMALT COURT.

Bound Over to Keep the Peace for Asking a Man to Pay His Debts.

On Wednesday morning, W. Fisher, J. P., heard a charge of assault preferred by H. Bunting against George Bebbington.

Plaintiff said he was conversing with Mr. Cameron when defendant asked him for $7 which plaintiff owed defendant; told him to go away as he did not want to have anything to do with him; defendant said: "I'm going to ask you for it every time I see you."

Mr. Cameron said he saw no assault committed; heard the conversation; nothing more transpired. Witness used no violence or made any threats.

The magistrate decided to bind defendant over in the sum of $50 to keep the peace for six months and and also ordered him to pay $3.50 and costs.

Defendant said that he would decline to sign the recognizance or pay the costs. He intended to appeal the case, and could not understand how he could be found guilty of assault when he only asked for what belonged to him in a respectful manner.

Magistrate—What you see and what I see are two different things.

A charge of using threatening language was brought by Mr. Holman against Mr. Harman.

Holman, Constable Campbell, Captain Holmes and Bebbington were called as witnesses.

The magistrate decided that he did not wish to hear Mr. Bebbington's evidence and dismissed the charge.
